

SIX MEET DEATH.

Horrible Accident on the Central Road, at Mannville, Last Night.

Engineer Hubbard, Fireman Gearhart and Brakeman Bigelow Among the Victims.

The Worst Accident in the History of the Wisconsin Central.

Six dead and over a score injured, is the result of a terrible accident on the Wisconsin Central road, at just 1:13 o'clock this morning. The number of dead may be even more than six, but that is the correct number as near as can be ascertained at this writing. The accident happened at the abandoned station of Mannville, three miles above Marshfield, and is the worst in the history of the Central road. The dead are:

Jas. F. Hubbard, Engineer.
Geo. Gearhart, Fireman.
Judge Bigelow, Brakeman.
Mr. Russell, Civil Engineer.
UNKNOWN WOMAN, of Menasha.
UNKNOWN MAN, of Marshfield.

The three first named are residents of this city, and the bodies of Engineer Hubbard and Fireman Gearhart are now at Grant's undertaking rooms on Brown street, while that of Brakeman Bigelow are beneath the smoldering ruins of the wrecked train. Mr. Russell is a resident of Milwaukee, and was an assistant civil engineer on the road.

The cause of the accident was the result of the switch bolt being misplaced, or in other words the bolt that connects the switch rod with the switch itself was out of place. The accident happened at what is known as the west switch, at Mannville, and the moment the engine struck the switch it left the track and went into the ditch, which is some four feet deep at this point. It went down between what is known as the house track and the main track. The train consisted of the baggage car, two coaches, three sleepers and business car No. 47. The latter car was occupied by Receiver Howard Morris, and all but this and sleeper, "Ashland," are now a mass of ruins. These two were saved. As the engine left the track it went headlong into the muddy ditch, and turned at least partially over, burying the engineer and fireman beneath the ruins of the tank. The baggage car, two coaches, one of them a smoker, and two sleepers, followed and were telescoped or piled high on top of one another.

Almost as soon as the train, which was the limited, No. 4, coming east, and running at the usual high speed, came to a stop, the interior of every car seemed to be filled with fire or escaping steam. Brakeman Bigelow, Mr. Russell and the stranger from Marshfield, who seemed to be a woodsman, who boarded the train at Abbotsford, were all in the smoker at the time the accident occurred. The Menasha woman, who was of medium age, also boarded the train at Abbotsford. She was undoubtedly a foreigner, having a note to the conductor asking him to see that she reached her destination all right. This woman was seated in the first-class coach. The conductor, W. J. Gavin, of this city, was also in this coach, and had looked at his watch, noticing that it was just 1:13. Almost immediately thereafter he felt the crash, and grabbed the seats on either side, which he hung to with his whole power, but was forced to the floor, going down upon his knees and in a half doubled-up position. Instantly everything was confusion, passengers were crying or screaming with fright and pain, and although Mr. Gavin had been struck upon his back by a flying seat or heavy missile of some kind and received a number of other bruises and cuts upon his body, he forgot his own pain and only thought to save others. This car was already filled with escaping steam, and Conductor Gavin broke open a window, through which he crawled. Then with the aid of Engineer Wm. Buckley, of Ashland, who was a passenger, and some others who were fortunate in getting out, he turned his attention to freeing those who had been less fortunate. There were some sixty passengers on the train, and it is supposed that all of these except the four heretofore mentioned were saved. Engineer Hubbard and Fireman Gearhart were taken from beneath the ruins in a dying condition, the latter living only about five minutes, while Mr. Hubbard lived about two hours, but neither regained consciousness. Their bodies were horribly burned by escaping steam, while their limbs were broken and numerous injuries received about the head and other parts.

Among the others who were injured are W. O. Bozlee, the news agent, who was asleep in the coach. When the crash came, he was thrown forward with great force, striking upon his face and head. Here he was pinned down, with another man under him and seats on top, for what seemed almost an age, and partially in an unconscious condition. Then Engineer Buckley came to the rescue, and with the aid of the man at the bottom Bozlee was gotten out. He is quite badly bruised, complains of his stomach, but no bones are broken, and it is believed and hoped that he will soon be about again. He is now at his home on Center avenue. Dr. Weigel, a resident of Glidden, was also among the unfortunates, being considerably bruised and shaken up. He is at the Jacobs House here, but no serious results are feared. The flagman, Chas. Rice, and the news agent, who makes this run, McManus, both escaped without a scratch, the former being in the sleeper "Ashland" when the accident occurred. McManus was started for Marshfield by the conductor as soon as the accident occurred, but when he had covered about half the distance met a team who took him back. There an engine and a couple of coaches were secured, which was boarded by three doctors, and they with the assistance of a Chippewa Falls physician, who was on the wrecked train, did everything possible for the unfortunates. A special was also made up here, and with the Drs. von Neupert and Dr. Atwell, left for the scene of the accident at about half-past two o'clock. When Marshfield was reached, however, they were met by the special that had been sent from there, and on this were the dead and injured. The wounds of the latter were attended to by the physicians, and there were not to exceed fifteen of them. Several of these were taken to the Marshfield hospital. Mr. Bozlee and Dr. Weigel were brought to this city, arriving at about six o'clock, and others continued their journey south from this city. It is believed that Mr. Bozlee and the doctor were the more seriously hurt of those who received injuries.

Engineer Jas. F. Hubbard has resided in this city for nearly twenty years, coming here in the fall of 1874, when a mere boy, and has ever since, with the exception of about three years, when he was on the Northern Pacific, made this city his home and been in the employ of the Central. He was born in England, of English-Irish parents, 39 years ago the 1st of last November, and was married in this city Dec. 25th, 1881, to Miss Lucy McLean. He has three children, two boys and a girl, the youngest 4 and the oldest 12 years of age, and to these and the heartbroken wife the sympathy of all goes out. He came here from Marquette, Mich., where he has a sister. Mr. Hubbard was truly one of nature's noblemen, a jolly, whole-souled man, strictly honest and honorable, and his sad and terrible death is lamented by all. He was First Engineer of Baldwin Division No. 80, B. of L. E., and highly esteemed by every member thereof.

Geo. Gearhart has been a resident of this city for a number of years, and in fact attended our public schools. He was 33 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children, aged 9 and 6 years. He also was a member of Division No. 80, B. of L. E., but was set back a few weeks ago, when a number of other engineers shared the same fate. He formerly lived at Chelsea, where his parents, brothers and sister reside. He was an excellent man in all respects. He was a member of Shaurutte Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Judge M. Bigelow, who had always been called Judd, was born at Plover 35 years ago last March. He was married at White Beaver Lake, Minn., to Miss Rose Howe 3 years ago the 15th of last April. Besides his wife, he leaves one little girl, 2 years of age. He had followed railroad for the past nine years, and was one of those jolly, social young men it is always a happiness to meet. The sympathy of the community goes out to the wife and little one, as well as to the gray-haired father, brother and sister.

The body of Judd Bigelow, the brakeman, was found at about nine o'clock this morning and recognized from his keys and watch. It was burned beyond recognition. Two other bodies were found about the same time, but were so badly burned that nothing could be ascertained as to even what sex they belonged to. It is feared that the number of victims will even exceed six.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.

A Largely Attended Mass Meeting at the Opera House, Sunday Afternoon.—Addresses Delivered and Resolutions Adopted.

Every seat was occupied and scores were obliged to remain standing, or either take their departure, at the appointed time for the mass meeting of citizens, held at the Opera House, last Sunday afternoon. The program opened with the singing of "America," by a strong chorus, and in which a good portion of the audience joined. Rev. R. H. Weller of the Episcopal church, led in prayer. The other reverend gentlemen who occupied seats on the stage were Rev. E. P. Rankin, of the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. J. Rice, of St. Stephen's Catholic church, Rev. Webster Millar, of St. Paul's M. E. church, and Rev. L. G. Carr, of the Baptist church. Mr. Rankin gave a statement of the objects of the Sabbath League, saying that it is for the purpose of promoting a better observance of the Sabbath, for the circulation of good literature among the people, and the holding of meetings like the one then in session, that both the spiritual and physical well being of all may be improved. He then gave a list of the officers of the league, and said that it is not because Stevens Point needs such an organization, not that she is the worst place in the world, but because there is room for improvement, that this agitation is going on. He said that all business houses should be closed on the Sabbath, except those that are kept open as a necessity or for charity, and this meeting is to awaken sentiment, to arouse attention, that the objects of the movement may be carried out. After a song by a choir consisting of W. B. Buckingham, Gavin Campbell, Prof. Simonds and Geo. S. Rodd, Rev. Father Rice spoke upon "The Christian's Duty to the Sabbath." The speaker said that he was pleased to be called upon to say a few words on so good a subject, and that in order to properly observe the Sabbath a person must be a Christian, and the Sabbath should certainly be observed by all Christians. From the earliest times, he said, the world had been religiously inclined, and as an ancient writer once said, it would be easier to do without kings and judges, than without temples and churches. All mankind recognize the duty of serving God, he said, and then referred to the significance of the ten commandments, saying that they do not imply what is said only in words, but a broad and more expanded view must be taken. He referred to the past and present state of affairs in France, Russia, Germany and England, and said that their troubles were brought on by socialism and a lack of religion among their people. All should be proud to live in this grand country of ours, where religious liberty is to be enjoyed. The world was made in six days, and on the seventh the Maker rested. Man is made according to the image and likeness of God, is superior to all other things and creatures in the world, and should serve his God and the day set apart for that purpose. When we consider that all we have in this world is but the gift of God, we must know that it is our duty to serve him. This is not only a divine law, to have a day of rest, but the law of nature as well. Sunday is essentially the laboring man's day, a day of rest and prayer, a day of peace and reflection. It is the Sabbath day and the church day, and it should not be desecrated. The reverend gentlemen's remarks throughout were replete with good thoughts, and were well received by all present.

B. B. Park was the next speaker, his subject being, "The Citizen's Duty to Obey the Law." He said that he had but a few short hours to prepare for this occasion, having been absent from the city, and can hardly see why it should be necessary to speak on the subject assigned to him, as every citizen should know that it is his duty to obey the law. The statute which commands us to observe the Sabbath, is founded on the Divine commandment, "Keep Holy the Sabbath day." We should observe this day for three reasons: 1st, because it is the law of God; 2d, the police regulations and moral advancement of the people require it, and 3d, for sanitary relations. The speaker then took up the first reason, referring at first to the north star, the guide of mariners for years, around which earth's many times larger than ours are circled, and all in perfect harmony. The same law which regulates them is the law of God. When he made things so perfect in the material world, do you think that he could forget man and the requirements for his intelligence? The courts have always sustained the commandment, "Remember the Sabbath day and keep it holy," and every American citizen should obey this commandment and always keep it in mind. Mr. Park said that two great people have lived in this world, the Romans and Anglo Saxons. The former had no Sunday, but they inaugurated seasons of rest, when to labor or do any work was to be fined. Thousands of dollars were spent to bring about this reform, that the mind and body might have perfect and complete rest. The holy Sabbath is a day of rest. The courts have always sustained it as such, and it must be right, coming down through twenty-three hundred years of time, approved of in all centuries and recognized in all the books. The speaker read an authority by "Cooley on Constitutional Limitation," on the observance of the Sabbath. Some will go out, the speaker said, and say that this law was not made for them, a thought which is uppermost in the mind of every criminal before the bar of justice, but when we accept it and recognize this move as for the benefit of all, then will we enjoy more righteous, more beautiful American homes.

A choir consisting of W. B. Buckingham, Gavin Campbell, Mrs. Hanover and Mrs. Chas. Raymond, then rendered a song, after which Dr. F. A. Southwick produced a paper on "The Physical Need of a Rest Day." The Dr.'s address was replete with good thoughts and sound advice, but for want of space we are able to give only a few extracts from the same. He said that every human being has a certain amount of force produced in his system daily, and if more force than the daily product be used, there will be a continual draining on the reserve power until there finally comes a time when bankruptcy results. It is precisely the same as when a man with a fixed income lives on through the years, spending each year only a little, it may be, more than his income, but as this continues, at last the capital begins to feel the drain, and with an accelerated pace ruin comes on. The speaker then spoke at length upon the physiological causes which make us live, and act and have our being. In examining the lives of our great and active men, he said that a great majority of them have broken down before the allotted time of three score and ten years. When we find exceptions to this rule, we find good reasons for the same. It is strange that one of the most difficult things to understand and one of the most common things to disregard is the needs of our physical nature and the relations of mind and body. As one has remarked, "It takes the better part of one's life to get acquainted with ourselves, and happy and fortunate are we if we do not kill ourselves in making the acquaintance." Under the ordinary conditions of life, the amount of labor required of each in order to earn his living, ought to be only a pleasurable exercise of our faculties, but, instead of finding life conforming to these conditions, we find the majority of people groaning beneath the yoke of toil and care; our bodies break down from being over-worked; our brains become disordered from being over-taxed, and when the human frame finally succumbs to the effects of all this mismanagement.

The next speaker was Rev. L. G. Carr, who spoke on "The Moral Effects of Sabbath Observance." He said that what the audience had heard from the other speakers, is certainly sufficient to satisfy all of the importance of Sabbath observance, a day which is and always has been observed by a large and respectable portion of mankind at all times. This is not a day to dread, but a time when the family can become better acquainted, one member with the other. This afternoon there has been four speakers upon this platform, and there is no disagreement among them. By unity this question can be brought to a successful termination, as in unity as in all other matters there is strength. Let the friends of a Christian and religious Sabbath join together, and much good must certainly result. God has no place on earth or in heaven for one who will not labor, but this must be done in six days, and the seventh devoted to rest. Mr. Carr closed his remarks with a strong appeal for Sabbath observance. Rev. Mr. Millar then read the following resolutions, which were adopted by a standing vote of those present, after which the meeting adjourned with a song. Prof. T. L. Allen accompanied the singing with his cornet, while Miss Kate Rood presided at the piano.

We, the citizens of Stevens Point, in mass meeting assembled, irrespective of church or party distinctions, do hereby adopt the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, Rest for one day in seven is essential to man's physical, moral and spiritual well being, and

WHEREAS, The State of Wisconsin and the city of Stevens Point have embodied this well known principle in just and reasonable laws requiring Sunday closing of places of business, and

WHEREAS, It is a manifest injustice for some to keep open for purposes of gain, while others obey the law, therefore Resolved, First, That we appeal to all citizens for their own good and the good of others, and for the sake of the moral character of our city, to respect the Sunday laws by keeping strictly closed all places of business, and giving employees their needed rest. Second, that we call upon the mayor and chief of police to enforce the laws wherever necessary, and in this effort we assure them of our faithful support.

Thursday Evening at Dr. Rood's.

Dr. and Mrs. Rood have kindly tendered Mrs. Wm. Walton the use of their beautiful and commodious new home on Main street, in which to give a tea for the benefit of the Church of the Intercession. The tea will be given on Thursday of this week, from 5:30 to 9 o'clock. All are invited, and all who attend will be served for the small sum of 25 cents. Following is the bill of fare:

| Creamed Veal | Saratoga Potatoes |
| Hain | Tongue |
| White Bread | Brown Bread |
| Pickles | Jelly |
| Strawberries | Cake |
| Ice Cream—ten cents extra. | |

Their Annual Picnic.

The Old Settlers' Club of Portage county will give their annual basket picnic at Lake Emily, on Wednesday, June 20th, the president of the club, S. A. Sherman, having decided upon that date after consultation with officers and members of the committee. An invitation to all citizens is extended. If the weather should prove stormy on the day above mentioned, the picnic will be postponed until the following day. The Amherst band will be in attendance and furnish music. A reduction in fare on both roads is promised. The program will be published in full in these columns.

Tonight's Lecture.

Remember the lecture at the Presbyterian church, tonight, by the Rev. D. E. Finks, of New York. Admission free. The following is a published notice of his lecture as given in the Calvary Presbyterian church of Milwaukee: "The lecture of Rev. D. E. Finks of New York, illustrated by stereopticon views, which was given in our church on Sunday evening, April 29, was both interesting and instructive. It was intended to give us some idea of the so-called exceptional populations of our own country, and was admirably adapted to that end. Mr. Finks was at one time, himself a missionary in Colorado, and the views of some of the grand scenery in that state were exceedingly artistic, as were also those of the Indian village in New Mexico; while the condition of the mountain whites of the southern states was vividly shown in a few well selected pictures. The fact that Mr. Finks, traveling with his camera, had taken the originals of these views, and was able to tell us about the circumstances under which they were obtained, added not a little to the interest of the lecture."

THE SOUTH SIDE.

A Few Items Appertaining to People and Events in That Part of the City.

—Prescriptions carefully compounded by Dr. Atwell, at his store on Division street.

—Miss Myrtle Trevitte, of Minneapolis, an eloquentist of much note, will give a select reading at the Baptist church next Friday evening. Music will also be furnished. Admission, 25 cents.

—The Wisconsin Central will sell tickets to La Crosse and return July 11th to 13th, inclusive, at $3.57 for the round trip, good to return till July 16th. Call on the agent for particulars.

—F. C. Holman, one of the Central's firemen, met with a painful accident last Thursday morning. The tank box on his engine fell on Mr. Holman's right thumb, tearing the nail off and breaking the bone. It will be two or three weeks, at least, before he will be able to resume work.

—Mrs. John McCadden, of Waukesha, has been in the city for a few days past visiting with relatives and friends, while on her way home from St. Paul, where she attended the Ladies International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and had a most enjoyable time. She was accompanied by Mrs. W. D. Goltz, of this city.

—The festival and entertainment given by the Royal Templars, at South Side Good Templars Hall, last Friday evening, was a pleasant affair. Mrs. Hayner sang two solos in a highly pleasing manner, while the exhibition of Indian club swinging by Miss Coral Hayner, and the singing and dumbell performance by Pearl Hayner were first-class. A short play entitled, "The Tea Party," in which four ladies took part, added much to the evening's enjoyment.

—The residence of Daniel Arno, who lives south of the Central track, on Water street, was entered last Thursday afternoon, through a rear window, during the absence of Mrs. Arno, and a ladies' gold watch taken. The arrest of a man who lives at Marshfield soon followed, but he established his innocence and was allowed to go. A couple of tramps, who had been in the woods south of there for several days, were also arrested, but nothing could be found to show their guilt.

—A fine granite monument now marks the last resting place of C. Swayze, in the Episcopal cemetery, having recently been ordered by the administrator of Mr. Swayze's estate, A. P. Een. A rock-faced monument of a neat and tasty design has been placed over the lot in the Episcopal cemetery owned by the Page estate. Both of the above mentioned stones were purchased of Geo. Gee, the South Side marble dealer, and are further evidence of the fact that he does first-class work. Mr. Gee has also placed a marble monument over the remains of the late John Quinn, in St. Stephen's cemetery.

Married at Amherst Junction.

At 8 o'clock last Thursday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Een, Amherst Junction, Chas. N. Dwinell and Miss Ada C. Een were made man and wife. Rev. M. W. S. Perry, rector of the M. E. church at Amherst, performed the ceremony. Miss Essee Peterson and Bert Evans acted as bridesmaid and groomsmen, respectively. The wedding was a very quiet affair, none but relatives and a few of the more intimate friends being present. At nine o'clock a choice repast was served, after which an hour or two was pleasantly passed by all present. Among those in attendance were C. H. Dwinell and wife, F. C. Shidel and wife, this city; B. A. Dwinell and wife, Nelsonville; P. N. Peterson and family, Amherst; N. H. Johnson and wife, Tola; Mrs. A. Fellows, John Meyers and wife, Kingston, Ill. The bride is one of the best known and most popular young ladies in the town of Amherst, and we join with her many friends in the hope that in "sailing down the stream of time" her bark will encounter but few breakers. The groom has been engaged in business at Nelsonville and Amherst for several years, where he has the reputation of being an honorable, straightforward gentleman, and we heartily congratulate him on the step he has taken. Mr. and Mrs. Dwinell expect to go to housekeeping next week, a pleasant home in Amherst being nearly ready for occupancy.

many sad tests flow
For those who staid in Dixie's land some thirty years ago.

The panorama's passed away; the years have sped along;

I hear again the tramping feet, the murmur of the throng.

'Tis not a gala day parade, nor yet a martial show,

As when they marched to Dixie's land some thirty years ago.

Hang out the flag, the dear old flag, upon the

When sounds again the shrill toned fife, the bugle's mellow call.

Once more the veterans fill the ranks and tramp with footsteps slow

To honor dead who tramped with them some thirty years ago.

They hide no hatred in their hearts for those who wore the gray.

But comradeship of bygone years will bind brave hearts for aye.

With those who struggled side by side fraternal love must grow

As ranks grow thin of those who marched some thirty years ago.

with a fine hotel and lofty courthouse and many pleasant residences. There is an air of desolation around, and the yellow flag is flying from what were rebel hospitals, and some are yet. A graveyard between us and the town is nearly filled with the graves of rebel soldiers, which are frequently decorated with wreaths of "immortelles," the spirit of the town being intensely "secesh." G—— and myself had a pass on Monday and were reminded of this by a couple of ladies and some gentlemen on a porch commenting on and laughing heartily at our officers as they passed by, and another couple, one with black curls—very pretty—went by us with a score of wreaths on their arms to decorate the grave of some soldier taking his rest. I think the graves are more particularly cared for when we are around, but we think the more of them for it anyway. Our soldiers take very little notice of such demonstrations. A number of shopkeepers take both Confederate and Federal money.—G. T. in Washington Star.

MEMORIAL DAY GEMS.

As the eastern worshiper, before he enters the precincts of a holy place, divests himself of his worldly garments lest they profane it with their grossness, so should we leave behind us the passions and prejudices of our daily lives as we approach the tombs of the mighty dead of our republic. These are the shrines of American patriotism.—John S. Wise.

Bury hate, banish strife, keep alive love and hope, and under the flag of our Union and that banner on which is inscribed "Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty" let us march on to that greater and grander destiny which should be the fruitage of the tears and idol of our generation, and of the million heroes whose memory we honor by the beautiful ceremonies of Memorial day.—J. H. Davidson.

The fields where lie buried the heroes of the struggle for the preservation of the Union are more than cemeteries. They are gardens of glory where shall blossom eternally the most splendid flowers of patriotism.

—John Morrison came down from Rhineland, last Saturday, to spend a few days with his family at Plover. John expects to spend much of the summer here.

—Are you interested in sanitary plumbing, heating and gas fitting? We are practical. PATTERSON & EGGLSTON, 111 N. Third street. Telephone 62.

—W. W. Taylor is spending a few days at his old home in Sparta, being called there by the illness of his mother, who fell and hurt herself quite badly a few days ago.

—An effort is being made among our merchants to close their places of business at six o'clock in the evening, at least four days out of the six, but as yet the matter has not been fully consummated.

—The Wisconsin Central have put on a new train between Neenah and Milwaukee, leaving Milwaukee at 7:25 A. M. and leaving Neenah at 6:00 P. M. This is an excellent train for traveling men generally.

—G. L. Sande, the watch maker and jeweler, next door to the First National bank, wishes to announce that he is now prepared to do all work in his line, including fine repairing, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction.

—A. J. Empey, who has sprinkled the business streets of our city every season for a number of years back, sold his outfit last Monday to M. E. Means, and hereafter the latter's son, Chas. Means, will take Mr. Empey's seat on the wagon.

—Are you looking for bargains? Yes. Well, go to W. J. Leonard's; he has them by the car load. Men's suits reduced from $5.00 to $2.50. Look how we are selling boys' suits: reduced from $1.50 to 35 cents; reduced from $2.50 to $1.50.

—The Wisconsin Central is again in line for Lake Emily business, both regular and excursion. Trains leaving here at 6:00 and at 12:25 A. M. and arrive here at 5:35 P. M., will stop at the Lake when necessary.

—Having bought the entire stock in extra large sizes, of men's clothing, of a large manufacturer, for 50 cents on the dollar, I am prepared to fit the largest and fastest man in the city or county, with a good, durable, all wool suit of clothes for less than the cloth would cost.

—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week promise to be memorable days in the history of Stevens Point. Old soldiers will be present in large numbers from all parts of the district, as well as from points outside, including Grand Rapids and Wausau, and with favorable weather the attendance will be very large.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leander Van Hecke and little son, of Ellendale, N. Dak., arrived here last Friday evening to spend a few days with relatives. Leander has been cashier of the Citizens Bank at Ellendale for several years, but resigned his position last week to take charge of a large flouring mill at Red Lake Falls, Minn., in which he is also a stockholder. C. P. Haseltine, a former resident of Wausau, and well known here, is interested in the Red Lake mill.

—The latest in shirt waists, at Clifford's.

—S. Jacobson will receive another car load of fresh fruits and vegetables, the latter part of this week, which will be sold at the same remarkably low prices he has been selling goods for some time past.

—Those wishing a first-class pasture for their cow, this season, can be accommodated on the forty acre tract just east of the fair grounds, which is owned by Matt. Adams. Enquire of Wm. McCleary, near the premises.

—Wanted.—Salesman. One acquainted with the trade in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Minnesota. Must furnish A1 reference and state experience. A splendid opportunity to the right man. Address CRANE BROS., Tomahawk, Wis.

—Matt. Adams, of Chicago, is spending a few days in the city, coming up to look after his property interests here. Mr. Adams is now located at 32 Cleveland avenue, where he is enjoying a good business. His place of business is called the Wisconsin Grocery House. The members of his family are enjoying excellent health in Chicago, and they like that great western metropolis as a home.

—An old man, a resident of Adams county, called on Sheriff Wheelock, last Wednesday evening, saying that he was looking for his wife, several years younger, who had suddenly left him a year or more ago. Since her departure, he had sought her at most every conceivable place in the northern part of the state, and at one time, last fall, found her at Centralia. The woman expressed her willingness to accompany the husband home, saying they would take the evening train, but when they reached the depot she quickly disappeared in the darkness, and he had been unable to find any trace of her since. The stranger described the woman to our wide-awake sheriff, who recognized her as a person who had spent some time in jail during the winter, and was still in the city. It is surmised, however, that the old man will not be able to prevail upon her the propriety of returning to the sand hills of Adams county.

Close Next Wednesday Afternoon.

Mayor Clark requests all business houses to close next Wednesday afternoon, from 1 to 4 o'clock, at which time the grand parade will take place under the auspices of the Central Wisconsin Veterans' Association. At the same time he would remind our citizens generally, especially those in the business portions, that this will be a good opportunity for them to show their patriotism and respect for the old soldiers by decorating their respective places for the three days' reunion.

What Al. G. Field Will Not Do.

He will not have but one minstrel company on the road, and it will be under his immediate direction. He will not have an interest in any other amusement venture, and will not try to move the World's Fair into the auditorium and use the fair buildings to exhibit his Columbian minstrels in; neither will he send his minstrel company abroad—there's too much money in America. Neither will he foist upon press or public any palpable exaggerations for self-aggrandizement, but in the future, as in the past, will give the public the best legitimate minstrel entertainment ever seen.

When the band plays and the doors open, press and public will verify this statement. Will appear at the Opera House, Monday, June 4th.

The Woman's Presbyterian.

The 6th annual meeting of the Woman's Presbyterian Missionary Society, for the Presbytery of Winnebago, will be held in this city tomorrow, Thursday, May 31st, at the Presbyterian church. At least fifty delegates are expected from abroad, and the meeting promises to be most interesting in all respects. The morning session will commence at nine o'clock, and after singing and scripture reading, Mrs. Proctor, of Neenah, will lead in prayer. The president of the society, Mrs. J. B. Fairchild, of Marinette, will then extend greeting to all present, and after singing, Mrs. W. B. Buckingham, of this city will deliver an address of welcome, to which Mrs. Mitchell, of Oshkosh, will respond. The balance of the forenoon will be devoted to various matters of business, which will be interspersed with singing and addresses by Mrs. Strowbridge, of Wausau, and Mrs. Proctor. The afternoon session will commence at 2 o'clock, and besides singing, words of greeting, reports of committees, etc., addresses will be made and papers read by Mrs. Stiles, of Neenah, Mrs. Carrier, of Wausau, Mrs. Goodwillie, of Wausau, and Mrs. Livingstone, of Marshfield.

There are a few slight changes in time of passenger trains on the Central, a new time table going into effect last Sunday, and which may be consulted on the last page of this issue. The morning train now arrives at 8:40, or forty minutes later than formerly, and the evening train from the west reaches here at 8:30, or fifty minutes sooner than heretofore. These are the main changes, but there are also other slight ones, which may be seen. The train service on the Portage road has also been greatly improved, for which our citizens and those living along the line, feel very thankful. The morning passenger now leaves here at 9:00 in the morning, and returns at 8:20 in the evening. This train is of no particular service for local business and accommodation, but when taken in connection with the local freight train that has been put on between Stevens Point and Packwaukee, is all right. The latter train arrives in this city at 9:40 a. m. and leaves at 3:00 p. m.

The Big Show Coming.

The A. G. Field Columbian Minstrels will face the footlights at the Opera House, Monday, June 4th, and will introduce many new and novel features. Among them are the Grand Spectacular Columbian First Part, the Bivouac, representing Jackson Park, the World's Fair enclosure illuminated; the funny finale scenes in the Midway Plaisance, an old time negro song and dance sketch; the barbers plente; Napier and Marzella, high class acrobats; The Magnani family, Parisian musical street pavers; the gladiatorial tournament in which twenty agile dancers appear; the Alveraz family, known Europe over as the musical barbers of Seville; Cradoc, Roman axe men; the bewildering march of the continentals, and the laughable burlesque entitled, "The Darktown Fire Brigade," in which the entire company take part.

Small Blaze, Quickly Extinguished.

A little excitement was caused a few minutes after one o'clock on Monday afternoon by a fire in J. Iverson's jewelry store. Mr. Vandebie was the only occupant of the store at the time, and he was sitting at his desk near one of the front windows. Happening to turn around he was startled to see a blaze climbing toward the ceiling, on the east side of the store, less than thirty feet away. He quickly ran into Jensen & Co.'s store, next door, and told them to turn in an alarm. Returning to the store, he locked the doors from the inside, and then running to the rear called for Mr. Iverson, who was in the back yard. With a couple of pails of water they succeeded in extinguishing the blaze, and the only damage that resulted was to the wood work and casings, which is covered by insurance. Both fire companies responded to the alarm turned in, but their services were not required. The fire started on the floor, near the wall, and directly beneath the shelving, but the cause of its origin is only a matter of conjecture, being purely accidental.

Resolutions of Condolence.

By Shaurette Lodge, I. O. O. F.

The Grand power that governs and rules all things, in His divine wisdom has taken from us our beloved brother, Carl Phillips, one who for years has met with and shared with our joys and sorrows, and with unswerving integrity fought the battle of life according to his environments with honor to himself and those who dealt with him, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the loss of brother Carl Phillips we sustain a bereavement that we all regret, and hoping that in the great time to come we may be united in the presence of our Great Master.

Resolved, That our Charter be draped in mourning for thirty days and a copy of these resolutions be presented to the sorrowing family and friends, assuring them that with them goes our heartfelt sympathy in this, their and our bereavement.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon our records and published in the city papers.

FREAKS OF LIGHTNING.

The North Side Lumber Co. Planing Mill is Struck, but the Damage is Light.

This section was visited by one of the most severe thunder and lightning storms, accompanied by heavy rain, last Saturday evening. It has experienced for years. The rain came down in torrents at times, and when it was the hardest, a bolt of lightning struck the tall brick smoke stack of the North Side Lumber Co. planing mill. A number of brick at the top, on the northwest corner, were dislodged, and the bolt seems to have then separated in two or three parts, one going through the roof of the shaving house, while another went on the inside of the chimney, and when about half way down separated again, part going through the north side of the chimney, making a hole about the size of a single brick, and then into the shaving house, while the rest passed beneath the boilers, and with sufficient force to blow open both iron doors of the arches. Arthur Sturtevant, teamster at engine house No. 1, was standing in the doorway of the engine house when the bolt came down, and he says that almost instantly the whole structure seemed to be a mass of flame. Inside of three minutes this company had a stream upon the blaze, and were quickly followed by company No. 2, but a fire in a room filled with shavings proved a difficult thing to handle, and it was some time before they had it under subjection. It was not out entirely until the next day, when the room was emptied of its contents. The shaving room, which is a frame structure, and connected with the planing mill on the west, is quite badly burned and charred on the inside, while several holes were made through the side to allow the entrance of water. The blaze also extended to the engine room, but it was quickly put out. But for the prompt and excellent work on the part of the fire department, the entire plant would undoubtedly have gone up in smoke. Messrs. Hildreth & Martin estimate their loss at only about $200, and it is covered by insurance.

A Wisconsin Composer.

Joseph Flanner of Milwaukee, has published "The Creak of the Mill," a song composed by A. Cressy Morrison, who also furnished the music. The title design is one of the most expensive ever put on a piece of music. It is a windmill scene, with the title on one side inclosed in a heart upon an excellent representation of watered ribbon. Mr. Morrison's entrance into the field of music and song will not surprise his many friends, who know him to be the possessor of an exceedingly bright and inventive mind. In his work as advertising manager of Pabst Brewing Company, he has exhibited originality and genius that have made him conspicuous in that field of endeavor, and also brought good returns to the company which he is ably serving.

No Quorum Present.

Again, on Saturday evening last, a quorum failed to present itself at that evening's adjourned meeting of the Common Council. When the roll was called, the five Democratic aldermen answered to their names, and Ald. Baker, who desired to go to Oshkosh on the noon train, but remained over purposely to attend the meeting, came in just as an adjournment was taken. One more member was necessary for a quorum, and two more to transact the most important business that would come before the council, the passage of the paving ordinance, but they were not to be found, at least in the vicinity of the council chamber. Considerable urgent business was upon the clerk's desk, in addition to that mentioned above, but the importance of it seems to have been overlooked by the absentees. Prompt attendance upon meetings is one of the greatest requisites for a good alderman, and THE GAZETTE trusts there will be a full attendance at future gatherings. The next meeting will be on Monday evening, June 4th.

Love, Courtship, Etc.

Rumor has it that many of Stevens Point's most eligible young men are on the qui vive with regard to the lecture to be delivered Friday evening at Opera House, by Prof. Alexander, on Love, Courtship, Marriage and Jealousy. Ladies, of course, affect an indifference about the matter but it is a noticeable fact that the fair sex has been very well represented so far. It is safe to assert that they will be out in force. The Prof. has met with a decided success here and as Mrs. Alexander is announced for the "Tell-tale," it is a foregone conclusion that there will not be standing room on Friday evening. At the close of the lecture a free examination will be given any two young ladies present, and after delineating their characters the professor will select from the audience the most suitable young men for them and it is said that it has been announced that if the young people are willing the professor will pay for the marriage license and settle matters then and there. The subject of tonight's lecture will be "Phrenology in the Home."

THE OPERA HOUSE!

Friday Evening,
June 1st,
Prof. W. G. Alexander
WILL DELIVER HIS POPULAR LECTURE ON Love, Courtship, Marriage and Jealousy.

ARE THEY MATED?

The Professor will show and contrast the portraits of those who could and those who could not live happily together. He will explain how to tell the signs of love and jealousy; how to tell a flirt, jealous-minded or real loving, motherly person; will describe courtships, wrong and right, popping the question, and how to manage your mother-in-law. Copies paired on the stage at the close of the lecture. Matching scientific, amusing, but not binding. Admission, 25 cents. Reserved seats 50 cents. Seats at 10 o'clock. By special request, Mrs. Alexander will repeat the "Tell-tale," Friday night.

LECTURE TO-NIGHT. COLLECTION AT THE CLOSE.

The Bodega Falls.

A dispatch from Marshfield says: "The Bodega company, incorporated in 1892 by N. E. Blodgett, C. E. Blodgett and A. J. Booth, made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors this morning to Nic Gross, of Stevens Point. The liabilities are placed at $9,000 and assets at $12,000. Following this assignment C. E. Blodgett, secretary and treasurer of the company, made a personal assignment with liabilities placed at $24,000 and assets $6,000. The Bodega was among the finest saloons in the state, but of late has been unable to meet its bills. The concern will run as heretofore under the management of the assignee." Mr. Blodgett was in the city yesterday, and says that he expects to have everything running again in thirty or sixty days. The assignment was brought on, he says, by the personal claims, last mentioned, being pressed against him, and which were contracted several years ago, when he was in business at Grand Rapids. The assignee, Nic Gross, is now in possession of the business, and will spend a part of his time there until matters are settled.

A Grand Concert.

An audience that occupied nearly every chair in the spacious Opera House, turned out last Monday evening to listen to the vocal and instrumental concert given by Prof. A. E. Neuman for the benefit of St. Stephen's church. A program of fifteen numbers was carried out very smoothly, all participants seeming to do their best to please and succeeded admirably. Time and space forbids the mention of each one who took part, and indeed it is unnecessary, as nearly all have appeared before Stevens Point audiences in the past, and the applause with which they were greeted Monday night was sufficient evidence that they were duly appreciated. Those, however, who are comparative strangers before the footlights here are Mrs. J. Forsyth, a resident of the North Side, and the Misses Merry, of Waupaca, all of whom assisted in the program, and are deserving of special mention. All have remarkably good and well cultivated voices. The singing of Gavin Campbell, N. F. Phillips and Mrs. Hanover is also highly spoken of. The mandolin and guitar double quartette by Will and Fred. Olin, Frank Thompson and Henry Rivers, was one of the best numbers on the program, as was also the violin, mandolin-banjo and guitar trio by Dr. von Neupert, Jr., F. C. Bailey and Chas. Sawyer. Miss Gertrude Hughes, of Clintonville, who is in the city visiting at the residence of V. O. Treanore, favored the audience with a pretty song, sweetly sung. As said before, all did well, including the girls of St. Stephen's school, whose chorus was pleasing, and the pastor, Rev. W. J. Rice, feels under lasting obligations to each and every one. A little over $100 are the net receipts.

True, secretary, Madison.
 —The plumbing in the handsome new home of N. Gross, on Main street, was done by A. V. Fetter. It is first-class in all respects, and considered to be the best in its line by judges of that kind of work. None but the best materials were used, and the workmanship, which is the handiwork of M. J. Reilly, is ornamental in all respects and speaks much for the latter gentleman as well as his employer.
 —While doing some plumbing work at Moffitt & Co.'s saloon, last Monday afternoon, Mat. Reilly lit a match near the gas meter and in an instant a terrific explosion followed. Mr. Reilly's face was cut in several places and his eyes injured slightly, while Frank Thompson, who was a few feet away, also received bruises on one side of his face. It was indeed a lucky escape from more serious injuries.

 —The Republican Congressional convention for this, the 8th district, will be held in this city on Tuesday, June 26th, a call having been issued by W. D. Connor, chairman of the committee. The 8th district comprises the counties, of Wood, Portage, Waupaca, Outagamie, Brown, Kewaunee and Door.
 —A slight change took effect in the time table on the Green Bay road, on Sunday last. The passenger train, which connects with the west bound train at Plover, now leaves here at 10:40, instead of 10:50, and arrives at 11:40. The evening train, which also connects with the west bound passenger on the main line, leaves here at 8:10, instead of 8:30.
 —Thos. B. Reid, the gray haired gentleman who would lead the forlorn hope in this congressional district, or in other words accept the nomination at the hands of the Republican convention, spent last Wednesday afternoon and evening in this city. As far as heard from, there are only two candidates for the Republican nomination, Mr. Reid, of Appleton, and E. S. Miner, of Sturgeon Bay.
 —Council No. 41, Side Rank Degree of the C. O. F., has been organized in this city and the following officers elected: G. H. R., C. E. Van Hecke; G. P. H. R., J. W. Dunagan; G. V. H. R., J. W. Glennon; G. H. P., P. J. Jacobs; G. H. G., F. J. Tack; G. H. Sec., J. J. Pfaffner; G. H. Treas., J. F. Shea; G. H. I. S., A. J. Kujawa; G. H. O. S., Dr. G. M. Houlehan; Mus. Dir., C. von Neupert, Jr.; Med. Ex., C. von Neupert, Sr.
 —Henry B. Cate, youngest son of Judge Cate of this city, is now engaged in the drug business at Menominee, Mich., the firm being H. B. Cate & Co. The Herald of that city says: "The City drug store is among the best institutions of this kind in the city, and has won a front rank for strict business principles and accuracy in preparing prescriptions, and this paper ventures the assertion that under the able management of Mr. Cate it will not only not lose, but gain in patronage."
 —M. Warnke, now a resident of Milwaukee, spent Saturday in the city, and while here bought the Mrs. F. Patterson property, on the north side of public square. The property has a frontage of 36 feet on N. Second street, and extends back 182 feet, and the consideration was $3,000. Just what will be done with the property cannot be said at present, but that a handsome brick block will be erected thereon either this year or next, is no doubt the fact. Mr. Warnke is an old resident of Berlin, a former sheriff of Green Lake county, and is a man of wealth. He will remove his family to Stevens Point within the next month, to make their permanent home.
 —Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fox are now residents of Wausau, to which city their household effects were shipped on Monday, and they followed on Tuesday. The well wishes of their numerous Stevens Point friends will follow them to their new home, and will be pleased to know that they will soon be nicely located in one of the best residences in that city, which was purchased last week from Geo. Silverthorn. It is located on Grand avenue, the best residence part of the city, is modern in architecture, commodious and convenient, and supplied with all modern improvements. The consideration was $4,000. Wausau is a good town to live in, and THE GAZETTE trusts that Mr. and Mrs. Fox and their little ones may always find true happiness there.
 —The Drs. von Neupert were tendered a surprise at their residence on Clark street, last Monday evening. The occasion was the 54th anniversary of the birth of Dr. C. von Neupert, Sr., and the 25th birthday of Dr. von Neupert, Jr. They were quietly seated at home, having returned from the entertainment at the Opera House, when the stillness of the night was suddenly broken by a number of the members of the Eintrachts Verein, who had congregated on the outside and joined in an appropriate chorus. All thereafter entered the residence and spent several hours very pleasantly. Remarks of congratulation were made by Messrs. John Stumpf, V. Bellach, N. Jacobs and J. H. Gerlich, and were responded to by Dr. von Neupert, Sr.

—Carl Knaak, a resident of Wausau, is in jail there for nearly killing his sixteen months old step child, whom it is supposed he caught by the arms and beat against the floor. Both arms were broken, one of them in two places, and one of the legs was also broken, while the poor little child's head and face were covered with blood when it was found. Knaak was arrested and held for examination in the sum of $3,000, which bond he could not furnish, but if an outraged public had strung him up to the most convenient tree, the world at large would say that he had partially paid the penalty of his crime.
 —The case of Mrs. Kristina Peterson against the Sherry Lumber Co., was tried at Grand Rapids last week, and resulted on Friday afternoon in a nonsuit, Judge Webb directing the jury to render a verdict in favor of the defendant company. The husband of the plaintiff, Peter Peterson, was killed in the mill of the Sherry Lumber Co., at Milladore, one year ago last January, a board flying back from the edger, where he was working, with fatal results. The widow brought an action against the company, asking damages in the sum of $5,000. Her attorneys are John H. Brennan and D. E. Frost, and Cate, Jones & Sanborn were for the company. Mrs. Peterson and three children now reside here, and are aided by the city.
 —The presentation of "Animated Whist," at the Opera House, last Thursday evening, drew out a very large and appreciative audience. It was given by Mrs. Weller, of New York, under the auspices of St. Agnes' Guild of the Episcopal church, who after paying all expenses cleared a little over $60.00. Fifty-eight persons large and small, appeared on the stage at one time, and the singing and dancing throughout was very interesting, and almost remarkable, considering the short time spent in rehearsing. There were several features of the entertainment that caused unusual and prolonged applause, but throughout it was far better than expected, considering the difficult task that each participant had to undergo. The music was furnished by Miss Francis Catlin, who presided at the piano, Dr. C. von Neupert, Jr., on the violin, and F. C. Bailey, on the mandolin-banjo.

APPOINTMENT CASE DECIDED.
Judge Creighton Says the Legislature Is Supreme—An Appeal Granted.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 23.—Judge Creighton has decided in the Populist appointment suit that the legislature is supreme in dividing the state into districts. The whole day was devoted to argument of the case on the demurrer of the state, in support of which arguments were made by State's Attorney Graham, Delos P. Phelps, and Attorney General Moloney. The Populists were represented by H. G. Jones, and the Republicans by ex-Assistant Attorney General Smith. At the conclusion of the argument Judge Creighton was ready with his decision.
He said that the case was identical with the Daville case and the same issues were involved. The constitution fixes a minimum and maximum of population and all between these is within legislative discretion. Concerning contiguity the constitution requires a district to be of contiguous territory and that clause withholds from the legislature the power to form a district of parts wholly disconnected. That is contiguity which touches and the degree of contiguity is a matter wholly within legislative discretion.
Concerning compactness it was the only debatable question in the case, and has no reference to shape, but refers to quality of solidity, and as to mere shape of a district that question was wholly within legislative discretion. So long as legislation is confined within constitutional limits no court has power to question the motives. Within the realm of its discretion each department of state government is absolutely supreme.
Concluding, Judge Creighton said: "I hold the act of 1873 was constitutional, the act of 1883 was constitutional, and the act of 1893 is constitutional and is now in force. If one or more of these three acts are held unconstitutional all must be, for all were framed by the same rules of constitutional construction and legislative discretion, and differ in results, if at all, only in a degree so slight as not to call upon the court to discriminate in favor of one of them and against the other."

At the conclusion of the opinion complainant immediately prayed an appeal to the state supreme court, which was at once granted and ten days given in which to file bill of exceptions and bonds.

FLAG BILL VETOED.
Governor Flower's Remarks on the Display of Foreign Emblems.
ALBANY, May 23.—In vetoing the bill to prevent the display of foreign flags and emblems on public buildings, Governor Flower indulged in these observations:
"It is a questionable sort of patriotism which seeks the enactment of such a bill as this. If the measure were approved it would be unlawful hereafter to display the flag or emblem of any foreign country upon any state, county, town or municipal building except upon the occasion of a foreigner's becoming a guest of the United States, the state, or of any city, and then only upon the proclamation of a governor or of a mayor. America is big and broad and free in its political toleration as well as in its territory, and such proposed legislation as this makes it seem small and narrow and clannish."
"If American patriotism is of such weak stamina that it can be allured by the display of foreign bunting, legislation like this cannot save it from speedy and utter ruin. I prefer to think that love for our country is of a deeper and stronger character, a love that is generous and tolerant, and of unquestioned loyalty in times of real danger. Let us not restrict the display of bunting on gala days; let us hoist the flags of all nations, but above all others let the stars and stripes float triumphant, and thus in our display of colors and emblems we shall best symbolize the varied yet harmonious character of our population."

SENATORS ARE EXONERATED.
The Investigating Committee Finds Them Blameless—Edwards' Case.
WASHINGTON, May 23.—The senate investigating committee has reported on the Hunton-Kyle bribery case. The report in brief holds them entirely blameless, after stating that the facts as heretofore printed are proven; and adds that there is no evidence to show that Butler represented any person or syndicate who desired to bribe senators, or had the money to do so.
Judge Dittenhofer, counsel for Correspondent Edwards, appeared before the investigating committee and announced that he had advised his client not to give the committee the names of persons from whom he received certain information bearing upon the subject under investigation. He quoted the supreme court decisions in the Kilbourne and Counselman cases in support of his position.
The committee overruled Judge Dittenhofer's objections and again called Edwards in, repeated its demand that he give the names requested in the first instance, and received his final decision not to comply with the demand. He was then excused and the committee again went into secret session. No decision as to a future course of action was reached.
Senator Caffery and ex-Congressman Leffevre, of Louisville, were before the committee later in the day and absolutely denied the story of their participation in the alleged conference with the sugar trust people.

NAMED FOR CONGRESS.
Indiana First District Democrats Nominate Arthur H. Taylor.
EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 23.—The First district Democrats at Rockport renominated Arthur H. Taylor for congress. Resolutions denouncing Hill, Brice and Gorman as the Benedict Arnolds of the Democrats and demanding that sugar be put on the free list were adopted. They also demand that the income tax be retained in the tariff bill as it came from the house.
CARROLLTON, Ill., May 23.—The Populists of the Sixteenth congressional district held a delegate convention here and nominated P. D. Stout of Morgan county for congress.

Book by the Famous "No. 1."
LONDON, May 23.—A book written by P. J. Tynan, the famous "No. 1" of the Phoenix park (Dublin) assassinations of May, 1882, will soon be published. It will give the complete history of the Irish revolutionary and parliamentary parties since 1861, including the stories of the Cavendish and Burke and other murders. It is predicted that it will create a greater sensation than did the "Parnellism and Crime" publication in the London Times.
The Stickle Hollow Riot.
UNIONTOWNS, Pa., May 23.—One of the strikers wounded in Thursday's battle had died, making in all five dead. The same number were severely wounded.

RESCUE OF THE SHIP'S CREW.
It Costs the Lives of Four Brave Men Before a Accomplishment.
PORT HURON, Mich., May 21.—The first attempt to rescue the crew of the schooner William Shupe, waterlogged off Port Huron resulted in a tragedy. The tug Thompson with a rescuing party steamed to the Shupe and launched a yawl with five men on board to go to the doomed vessel whose crew was in the rigging. The yawl managed to get alongside, but the gunwale caught under a projecting timber and the yawl was capsized. Four of the men were drowned while trying to swim ashore, the only one saved being Dan Lynn, who was strong enough to get in alive. The dead are: "William Lewis, Henry Little, Barney Mills and Angus King."
The tug made still another trial later. She left here with the Sand Beach life-saving crew in tow and dropped the boat about a mile above the Shupe. The life-savers finally reached the wrecked schooner and took off the crew and landed them on shore. They were all alive, but in a greatly exhausted condition; having been drifting at the mercy of the waves for forty-eight hours. The tragedy of the first attempt was witnessed by hundreds on shore who were, of course, powerless to give succor.

Ballots Should Be Burned.
CHICAGO, May 23.—In the case in which Judge Chetlain fined each of the three election commissioners $1,000 for refusing to let the special grand jury have the ballots of the December and April city elections Judges Tuley, Adams, and Sears decided that the law required the ballots to be burned, and therefore the order was in violation of the law, and Judge Chetlain had no authority to fine the commissioners. The judges thought the ballot burning provision might not be right, but it was law. The only case in which the ballots could be opened according to the law was in that of an election contest. The commissioners were therefore discharged.

No News from Smarrott.
CHICAGO, May 23.—William A. Smarrott, secretary-treasurer of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association, has now been missing ten days, and the belief is general that he has been murdered. He had about $700 on his person in money and valuables when he left home to attend the convention of the order at Evansville, Ind. It has been suggested that suffering with aberration of mind he has wandered away, not knowing where he was going, but he is known to every conductor on all the lines running out of this city, and this does not seem possible.

Wants to Impeach Judge Jenkins.
WASHINGTON, May 23.—The house committee on judiciary has endorsed the report of the Boutner sub-committee which investigated the matter of the injunction by Judge Jenkins, of the circuit court of the eastern district of Wisconsin, against the employees of the Northern Pacific railway. A resolution and two bills will be reported to the house. The recommendation is that the law be changed to make such injunctions impossible. Bailey wanted to impeach the judge and may move impeachment yet.

Subject to Criminal Prosecution.
TOPEKA, Kan., May 22.—Attorney General Little has given an opinion that the Master Plumbers' Association of Kansas comes under the provision of the state trust law, and that the members in combining against the non-members are subject to criminal prosecution. The organization was entered into to control the business of dealers in plumbers' supplies and to prevent those not belonging to the association from making purchases from wholesale dealers.

Liberal Religion in Council.
CHICAGO, May 23.—The first American congress of liberal religious societies has convened in Sinai temple. The congress is the outgrowth of the parliament of religions last year, the principal object being to obtain closer co-operation between the various denominations of liberal religious societies. The sessions are taken up with addresses and discussions.

Pennsylvania Republicans.
HARRISBURG, May 24.—The Republican state convention adopted a standard Republican platform on all issues where the line is clearly drawn and on silver asks the use of both gold and silver at a ratio that will preserve the parity of those metals. General Daniel H. Hastings was nominated for governor with a whoop.

Sale of Thoroughbreds Postponed.
LEXINGTON, Ky., May 22.—Colonel William S. Barnes, of the Melbourne stud; H. P. Headley, of the Belmont, and James B. Ferguson, of the Kingdon, have decided to postpone the sale of their thoroughbred yearlings from next Monday to Aug. 13, owing to the present unsettled condition of racing in the east.

Going to Impeach Judge Chetlain.
CHICAGO, May 23.—The executive committee of the Democratic county central committee has appointed a committee to gather evidence preparatory to the impeachment of Judge Chetlain for his action in the Prendergast case, where he granted a stay after the governor declined to interfere.

Yates' Remains to Be Cremated.

SOME men catch more fish than other men do. It is supposed that this is because they are more skillful. Those who take careful note, however, observe that the more successful fisherman devotes more time to it. He begins earlier, sticks more closely to it, and quits later. The conclusion is that the man who catches most fish fishes most hours. It is precisely the same way with advertisers. Some are skillful, some are not. The most successful advertiser is always the one who does the most of it, and keeps it up the longest.
